

Fabric/Fiber Tactile Sensors

Shinichi Hirai

Dept. Robotics, Ritsumeikan Univ.

Fabrics and fibers are stretchable, enabling us to create a variety of structures. Our laboratory studies tactile sensors using fabrics and fibers. Here we will present our researches on slippage detection using an electro-conductive fabric, grasping detection using conductive fibers, and contact-area independent force sensing.

